

DAY FOUR

Climb a mountain in Killarney

Killarney Valley is surrounded by beautiful mountains which range in their degree of difficulty. At the easier end of the spectrum stands Torc and Strickeen and the degree of difficulty increases from there. Carrauntoohill is Ireland's highest mountain, it's a hugely rewarding day out but its level of difficulty should not be underestimated. Our advice... to truly enjoy the experience hire the expertise of a local guide.
